Creating and online EVCOM Market Place

Dear Members,

We are extremely proud to position clients at the heart of everything we do.

Our revised Code of Ethics is now being used as a pre-qualifying criteria for a number of published business opportunities. Our RFP referral process is in its infancy but gaining traction and we are working hard to build this platform to become a truly interactive and on-line market place for members.

Creating this directory has been a next step in the journey to seeing a true "EVCOM Market Place" for members come to life.

We hope that more members will submit their entries and we will share case studies of collaboration and co-working very soon as there are many great examples of both.

We will update content quarterly and – with your help – see it grow.

Next step is to make sure that it is digitally enabled for much easier updating.

Thank you for your support

Jenny Jenkins
CEO

Our Policy

Mission

To celebrate and accelerate the success of Britain's creative industries.

Bringing together talented business and brand innovators with a shared belief in creativity as a high-impact, commercial driver, on the global stage. Sharing innovative creative thinking and defining professional standards and best practice business models for a vibrant, socially responsible future.

Recognising creative innovators and teams through inclusive and exciting industry celebrations; forums, online media and peer-group publicity and staging Britain's most admired industry awards.

Vision

To be an aspirational must-be-a-member trade association and to deliver exceptional value to all employees as part of whole-agency membership proposition.
